Cancellation by Freediving Explorations:

In the unlikely event that Freediving Explorations needs to cancel an expedition due to unforeseen circumstances or insufficient participant numbers, we will provide you with a full refund or offer you the opportunity to reschedule your expedition for a later date.

Due to the nature of ocean expeditions, weather and ocean conditions may affect individual boat days, wildlife encounters, dive sites, or activities. When possible, we will adjust the itinerary or provide a suitable alternative activity.

Medical Emergencies:

- While we understand that unforeseen medical issues can arise, please be aware that the cancellation policy above generally applies.
- If you must cancel your expedition due to a medical emergency, please provide appropriate documentation (e.g., doctor's note).
- We will work with you on a case-by-case basis to find a suitable solution where possible.
- We strongly recommend purchasing travel insurance that covers trip cancellation and adventure activities, including freediving.

Important Notes:

- This policy applies specifically to multi-day Sea of Cortez Expeditions.
- By submitting your deposit, you acknowledge and accept this cancellation policy.
- We reserve the right to modify this policy for future bookings.
